Preface

Dear reader(s),

Starting on 2021, we all realize that we are still in the same period, where the world's conditions are currently still working to bounce back from the Corona Virus 2019 (Covid-19) infection. However, this condition did not cause Faktor : Jurnal Ilmiah Kependidikan to slack off to maintain services to the authors and readers in obtaining the latest developments in scholarly debates.

In this edition, there are quite a lot of interesting issues to be examined carefully. Several articles present findings on the educational case during the Covid-19 Pandemic, and several others also contribute viewpoints concerning what they have done in their respective regions. We all understand that educational efforts cannot be achieved instantly, however, the slightest research that has been done can be interpreted as an effort to advance this field.

Readers who wish to send us any comments and suggestions concerning the development of our journal are welcome to do so any time. Authors are invited to submit original studies on a broad range of educational sciences and relevant topics. To access the electronic version of the current and back issues please visit <https://journal.lppmunindra.ac.id/index.php/Faktor/issue/archive>

Thank You
